

The Hohou Te Rongo Kahukura – Outing Violence survey was open for four months online in 2015/16 to all people in Aotearoa New Zealand over the age of 16 who identify under the sex, sexuality or gender diversity umbrellas. The survey was promoted through Rainbow media, our community hui and Rainbow community support groups around the country.

People who answered the survey represented the range of ethnicities that live in Aotearoa New Zealand and self-identified with a wide range of gender identities, ages, sexualities and disabilities. The rates we report are for the 407 people who answered our survey. They are not population prevalence rates because our sample was not random.
